Response Time:

Under the 1974 Privacy Act statute, all federal agencies including the Office of Navajo and Hopi Indian Relocation are required to respond to a FOIA request within thirty business days. This time period does not begin until the FOIA/Privacy Act request is received by this Office. A federal agency is not required to send out the releasable documents by the last business day; it can send you a letter informing you of its decision and then send the documents within a reasonable time. Contact Larry Ruzow at extension 114 with questions.
